Julie has been a labor relations practitioner for over thirty years, as both an advocate and a neutral. She earned a B.S. in Political Science and Sociology from the University of California, Santa Barbara and an M.S. in Labor Studies from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

She has been a Commissioner with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Portland, Oregon for over 7 years. Prior to her move to FMCS, she worked as a labor representative working in both the public and private sectors in California, Oregon and Washington.

In her spare time Julie volunteers with programs supporting at risk and underserved youth. And, along with her loyal K-9 companion Shadow, a certified therapy dog, she regularly visits homeless shelters, treatment and other community based programs.
