

Matthew Aliberti
Director, Impact
United Way Worldwide

Matthew Aliberti serves as a Director of Impact for United Way Worldwide. He leads collaborative partnerships with United Ways and national partners to achieve scalable results across the United Way network, particularly integrating approaches across education, income, and health platforms and embracing collective impact.

He has fourteen years of experience in affordable housing and community development, most recently building and managing a foreclosure program and homebuyer assistance program for the District of Columbia Housing Finance Agency.

He holds a Bachelor's Degree in the History of Science from Harvard College, a Master's Degree in Urban Planning from the University of Michigan, and is currently enrolled in the Master of Public Health program at the George Washington University, concentrating in Health Promotion.
